LOCAL DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN COMES TO CLOSE

With speaking at several points in the county, and the address of Major Samuel M. Wilson, at the court house yesterday afternoon, the Democratic campaign in Bourbon county came to a close. Judge Denis Dundon and Mrs. Wm. G. Talbott addressed the voters of the Shawhan precinct, at Shawhan, Saturday night. Major Wilson spoke to a large audience of enthusiastic Democrats, men and women, at the court house yesterday afternoon, and Judge Geo. Battered and County Attorney D. D. Cline addressed a large audience at Jacktown last night, winding up the speaking part of the campaign. To-day the battle of ballots is on in earnest. From six this morning to four this afternoon the workers, both men and women, will be busy for both parties.

The campaign for the election of the Democratic National ticket, headed by the distinguished statesmen, Gov. James M. Cox, and Franklin D. Roosevelt, was waged in this city and county without display of red fire, fireworks, brass bands or any other form of noisy demonstration. All the Democratic leaders have done excellent work. We desire to especially commend the Democratic County Campaign Chairman, Will G. McClintock and Mrs. Wm. G. Talbott, chairman of the women workers, and their able corps of assistants. They were busy day and night in the work of organization and education of voters, especially the women, to whom the business of voting came as a trial, to some extent. When the vote of Bourbon county is counted to-night the fruits be apparent to all. Great enthusiasm was aroused among the voters throughout the county on account of the organization built up by the men and women back of this work for the ticket.

THE NEWS took some part in the campaign. It advocated the election of the Democratic ticket from top to bottom, as it has always done. It did this from principle, and for no other reason. And we feel immensely satisfied with our part in the great struggle.

The speakers who went out to address the voters always found large crowds to address, and these crowds went away from the speakers well pleased and ready to do battle for Democratic principles and party success at the opening of the polls this morning.

The good women of the city and county, hundreds of whom will vote to-day for the first time, are aroused as never before in any previous election, and it is safe to say that ninety-five per cent. of the women of Bourbon county will vote at the election booths to-day, and that their votes will help to roll up the biggest Democratic majority Bourbon county ever gave. This is the most important election since 1860, and the issues are far-reaching in their importance to the State and Nation.

MANAGERS OF CAMPAIGNS SEE PARTY VICTORY

John L. Grayot, Democratic State Campaign Manager, said Saturday night:

"Kentucky on November 2 will give a majority for Governor Cox and Franklin Roosevelt and Senator Beckham that will not be less than 40,000 and may go to 60,000. "I want to warn the people of Kentucky to be on their guard against circulars, letters and affidavits appearing on the eve of the election, reflecting in any way on the Democratic candidates, or their position on any question."

The Republican ticket victorious by 21,000 in Kentucky is the claim of Chesley H. Searcy, State Campaign Chairman, who directed the G. O. P. forces in 1919 also.

Mr. Searcy would make no announcement of districts in which he expects a victory other than the Fifth, Tenth and Eleventh, although he declared that the representation in Congress, which is now four, would be increased.

"I am convinced now that this is a conservative estimate, very conservative," he said Saturday afternoon.

DEMOCRATS, DO YOUR DUTY TO-DAY.

Bourbon county Democrats must do their duty to-day at the polls. The good women of the city and the county will come to the rescue. They will help to roll up a big old-time Democratic majority in the county, and forever still the Republican cry that the Democratic majority is falling off. Remember, the polls are open from six a. m. to four p. m. Vote early!

FINAL APPEAL ON EVE OF ELECTION.

This issue of THE NEWS is put to press on Monday night, dated Tuesday, November 2. We would be recreant to our duty as a Democrat, false to our conception of the duty of an honest newspaper if we did not in this issue, on the eve of the election, urge our Democratic friends and all our readers, of whatever faith or creed, politically or religiously, to go to the polling places to-day and vote for the Democratic State, National and district ticket.

To our minds, America is to-day facing a crisis. Misrepresentation and abuse of President Woodrow Wilson, whose health was broken down in the service of his country as much as the health of the soldiers on the firing line in France was broken by the hardships they suffered, have featured the Republican campaign. The man to whom all paid homage less than two years ago as the leader of the Allied hosts, which has crushed the menace of world autocracy, has, in the eyes of the Republicans, suddenly become in himself a threat to the liberty of the world. Of course they do not feel the way they say they do about President Wilson. Of course they haven't any fear that American soldiers would ever be sent to Europe under Article X, or any other provision of the League of Nations. All that is balderdash for campaign purposes alone. It is to prevent the people regaining control of the United States Senate, which President Wilson warned them two years ago not to turn over to the reactionary Republican machine.

The Republicans ask us if we want "our boys" sent over to Europe, to fight in a foreign war, in warning us against Article X. They seem to have forgotten that our soldiers were sent to Europe, and were in Europe less than two years ago, and are in Europe right now, for that matter, without any League of Nations figuring in it. That has been about the only issue presented, or rather, misrepresented, by the Republicans in this campaign.

There are others the voters should not lose sight of. The laborer, skilled and unskilled, might stop to compare his wages now with the wages in 1912, when a Republican administration was in power. The farmer might well stop to consider the prices he is receiving now for his products and what he was paid for them eight years ago, before Woodrow Wilson was elected President. American business might well stop to consider whether it wants to plunge this country into another period of uncertainty due to Republican plans for revision of the tariff and the placing of that question back in partisan politics from which the Democrats removed it. And every citizen, whatever his trade, profession or occupation, might well stop to consider if he wants America to be put in the position where she refuses to "keep faith with those who died on Flanders field."

Not only the honor of America, but her prosperity and her future standing among the nations of the earth hang upon the decision of her people at the polls to-day. And the Democrats of Bourbon county should decide wisely their part in the general result. It is up to them. Every vote must be brought out and polled to-day. And to James M. Cox and Franklin D. Roosevelt may the victory be awarded.

A PROTEST FROM THE CITIZENS OF MILLERSBURG

We, the citizens of Millersburg, wish to enter our protest against the unkind and damaging misrepresentations which have been recently circulated against our fellowtownsman, Mr. Albert Moffett, in regard to the local school situation. Millersburg's greatest asset is her schools. Mr. Moffett, a business man of unusual clearness of vision and integrity of character, realizing this, has worked with untiring energy to uphold our schools. He has been interested not only in the welfare of the private schools, which have been in the community for over fifty years, but he has also supported every move for the betterment of the public schools. Mr. Moffett is emphatically not opposed to any school or schools but on the contrary stands ready to aid in the upbuilding and increase the efficiency of all the schools of the town. Mr. Moffett is one of our most public spirited citizens who will continue to give unsparringly of his time, thought and energy to further the cause of education, of all the schools through out the county.

The lower clothing prices you have been waiting for are here now. You don't have to wait any longer. In anticipation of lower wholesale costs, our prices have been sharply reduced for this special sale.

TELEGRAM TO CHAIRMAN THOMASON FROM REPUBLICAN STATE CHAIRMAN

W. A. Thomason, Chairman of the Republican County Committee, Paris, Ky., has received the following telegram:

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 28, 1920.

W. A. Thomason, Paris, Ky.
The culmination of the Democratic campaign falsehood and appeal to prejudice has come in the circulation of outrageous misrepresentation of Warren G. Harding. Senator Harrington's life, private and public, has been under the closest scrutiny of the people of his home State since his birth. They know him and all his connection. He is beloved and respected by his neighbors. The people of his home State, home town, have twice elected him to the Legislature. The people of Ohio elected him their Lieutenant Governor and he was chosen to represent his home State in the United States Senate by more than 700,000 majority. Under the searching scrutiny of the public during this long career he has thus emerged an honored and beloved citizen. The base appeals which are being brought out at this last hour of the Democratic campaign of misrepresentation are denounced by the Republican State Committee as common falsehoods. Persons guilty of circulating these libelous statements are as responsible under the law as those who originated them and the Republican State Committee desires information that will lead to prosecution.

CHARLES H. SEARCY,
Chairman State Campaign Committee.

READJUSTMENT SALE OF OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF MEN'S AND WOMEN'S FALL SHOES

To meet the public demand for cheaper shoes we have decided to make big reductions in our Fall and Winter Shoes for Men and Women.

In the past few weeks there has been a drop in the leather market, and, while our stock was bought at prevailing high prices we are willing to sacrifice our profits to give you cheaper shoes.

You cheerfully paid the price while they were going up and we think you are entitled to any reductions that may occur.

The small margin of profit we are asking will not allow us to make any charges, so this sale will be for CASH ONLY. HARRY LINVILLE.

FORMER PARISIANS MAKE BAD POLICE RECORD

Paris people will recall with varying degrees of emotions, the time when Jimmie Ward and his family were residents of this city. Trouble began early in the lives of the Ward boys, who were always having "something doing." It was a cold day in August when the Paris police were not called to settle with "Jimmie Ward's boys." Their mischievous activities knew no bounds, and they respected neither persons or property. A recent issue of the Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune gives a review of later-day events in the history of the Ward boys after they left Paris and settled in Covington. The Tribune says:

"When the cell door was locked behind Mike Ward, 33 years old, who shot and killed Thos. Mahoney, 60 years old, Ironton, O., in Jos Jensen's saloon, Pike and Russell streets, Covington, on Wednesday night, Covington police said they believed they had succeeded in rounding up the last of the Wards, a family of five brothers, whose deeds have been recorded on police registers in all the large cities of Kentucky during the last twenty years.

"The five brothers were known to detectives and the underworld of Northern Kentucky cities as the 'Kentucky James Boys.' Mike, the prisoner, and his brother, Owen, who was killed in an attempted robbery in Kansas several years ago, were regarded as the most desperate of the quintet.

"Ward, 33 years old, was born in Paris, Ky., and came to Covington with his parents when a small boy. Other brothers, John, Owen, James and Edward, also at an early age, drew the attention of the police.

"About five years ago a former patrolman, Marty O'Herron, who was a private watchman in the residential district of Wallace avenue, Covington, was shot and killed. Later the Kenton county grand jury returned an indictment against John and Owen Ward, charging them with the murder of O'Herron.

"Both men suddenly disappeared from their haunts in Covington. Two years later Owen Ward was killed by the Kansas City police while staging a restaurant holdup in that city. The police have lost track of John Ward. The other two brothers, Edward and James, disappeared a number of years ago, and the police believe they are dead."

VOTE EARLY TO DAY.

Vote early as possible to-day. The polls will be crowded, owing to the large number of women voters, to whom the process will be new, and those going late may not be able to get in. Vote as early as you can. The pressure of work on the clerks in the booths will be great.

WHITE WOMEN WILL MOST CERTAINLY VOTE

It has been predicted by some that many of our best women will not vote because they shrink from the ordeal of appearing at the polls where negro men and women are exercising the same privilege. That prediction will not come true because the best women will not shrink from any duty for fear of being subjected to some unpleasantness.

The sensible, thinking women of Paris know that now having the right of suffrage they must walk to the polls with their white men and vote to preserve their homes as well as our own public institutions. They realize that every negro woman will be at the polls and will vote the Republican ticket because they have been led to believe that in so doing they are voting to abolish the "Jim Crow" and other laws to which the colored people object, also to promote social equality, and to maintain mixed schools.

Some will say that their hopes are in vain, that such a thing could not happen in Kentucky. Those who think social equality with the negro impossible only have to go north of the Mason and Dixon line to find that it has happened. Why, only a day or two ago, rumors came to the managers of the University of Kentucky football team that a negro was one of the players on the team of the Miami, Ohio, University, with whom they had a game scheduled. Inquiry developed the rumor as a fact. The Kentucky team cancelled the date unless the negro was removed. The negro remained and Kentucky will not play. In many places in the South large placards are placed at conspicuous intervals through the leading towns, bearing the words: "Columbus discovered America in 1492; Keep America white; it belongs to you."

STATE GUARD TO BE REORGANIZED.

Under the plan for reorganization of the National Guard, which the War Department proposes to begin at once under the national defense act, Kentucky has been given an allotment of 2,600 men for the first year, with an equal number added for each subsequent year until the total reaches 10,400 in four years.

EDITORIAL FLINGS OF THIS THAT 'EN TOTHEE

Six months ago the consumers were standing in line to get sugar. Now the sugar speculators are standing in line at the banks to borrow money.

The campaign is nip and tuck, with a nipping frost due for some candidates that could be named, and many political workers tucking the goods safely away in their inside pockets.

The tired Paris business man is going to be a physical wreck between now and the second of November before he gets the political situation explained satisfactorily to the new voters in his family.

The women are going to be highly indignant when they hear that the $750,000,000 spent for rouge, lip sticks, etc., is classed as money spent for luxuries. Every woman knows those things are absolute necessities.

This is the time of year when warnings appear urging those who go hunting to be careful not to shoot unless they are sure their target is what they think it to be. Needless to suggest that the advice does not apply to politicians.

Paris woman wants to know what Senator Harrison is going to do after November 2. Well, we surmise that in the interval of getting back into the good graces of the people of Ohio, he will produce a guide-book entitled, "How Not To Get There."

In the stress and strain of political turmoil we have omitted to notice editorially that once again Man o' War has proved himself a pretty good piece of horseflesh. But not until he has raced in Kentucky for stakes, the winning of which would overtop the total of Isinglass, can we salute him as the greatest horse ever.

Considering the difficulty he has of getting anything under prohibition the average Paris man can't understand all this talk about the difficulty of enforcing the dry laws. And then again, considering the large amount of red liquor and moonshine said to be in circulation, he can't just exactly understand why the country should be considered "dry."

A Paris physician told one of his patients the other day that getting a shoe shine is a good tonic for fatigue. It has its advantages over the barber's chair because the boot-black's stock of trade has its limitations. And some Paris people we know are so lazy they would get more fatigue than tonic if they had to shine their own shoes.

The things that can't be printed: The rumors that can't be traced home! The whispered insinuations for which men hold a ouped ear! The sinister sliminess, some of which it is hoped will stick—isn't it time that these disgraceful tactics were denounced and discountenanced wherever they may be found? And that goes broadly for whom it may concern.

The farmers are beginning to get a bit sore, and well they may. They threaten to get into politics, and we hope they will. They find, for example, that though their products drop sensationally, the retail market is hardly affected at all. They lose and the consumer doesn't win. May we suggest that perhaps there is one factor in the calculation that never goes down?—And that's the middle man.

To the lover of nature, or at least to that lover of nature who has made the trip recently, "beautiful Stoner" never looked lovelier than at present, with its bordering fringe of autumn-leaved trees. Many a larger town would be "simply crazy" over so beautiful a stream. Really, as one Paris man has said, the people of Paris do not half appreciate the beauties of nature right in their midst.

Certainly some very enthusiastic young Democrats on Scott avenue and Vine street. The lawns in front of a number of homes on those streets were decorated early Tuesday morning with cardboard signs, on which were traced in childish school-boy hands, the legend: "Vote For Cox," and "Cox is The Man For President." Showing their patriotism and loyalty to Democratic principles early in life, eh?

Paris can boast of having one of the most enthusiastic and loyal movie fans in the country. A certain Paris woman, one of the best in the world, was taken suddenly sick Sunday night, after partaking of a substantial meal. A physician diagnosed her case as acute indigestion. After being relieved, the good woman turned to her son, and remarked: "Well, if it had to happen, I'm glad it was to-night instead of Monday night." Being asked what difference that made, she said: "Well, if it had been Monday I couldn't have attended the picture show, and somebody would have been in my seat."

Jack in Garden.

Jack-in-the-pulpit, by nature a bog lover, is by no means as fastidious as the most of its clan, and a moist, slightly shaded spot in one corner of the yard will amply supply its demands, says the American Forestry association of Washington. This plant is a near relative of the cultivated calla, with purple and white or green and white striped blossoms—usually called flowers. The real flowers, though, are deep in the center of this showy dress, at the base of the central spadix, and may be either fertile or sterile.

SCRAWLED BY GREAT POET?

Signature of William Shakespeare, Believed Genuine, Found on Wall in Hampton Court.

The discovery of the signature of William Shakespeare, scrawled years ago on the wall of the "haunted gallery" of Hampton court, has just been made in London. Shakespeare authorities pronounce it authentic.

The disclosure was made when Ernest Law, the court antiquarian, was directing the renovations. On the wall of the old retiring room he found, after cleaning it, the letter "S," followed by illegible letters, concluding "Shakespeare," and beneath the rough sketch of a hand and the date 1606.

It is a matter of history that the Shakespeare company visited the palace at the date set down and played "Hamlet" before the then King Christian of Denmark. The company dressed in the "haunted gallery," near the great hall where the play was enacted.

The gallery, according to ancient tradition, is haunted by the ghost of Catherine Howard, one of Henry VIII's six wives, who was imprisoned there. History tells that she escaped from confinement while the king was praying in his private chapel, and that her flight was discovered by the court guards, who dragged her screaming to the king, interrupting his devotions.

It was long said that Catherine night-walked the gallery, shrieking.—Toronto Globe.

RELY ABSOLUTELY ON NILE

Without the River's Annual Inundation Egypt Would Be Literally a Barren Waste.

Usually on June 15 the inundation of the Nile commences, the greatest height being at the autumnal equinox, after which the waters subside until the following April. The great advantages which Egypt derives from the annual rise of the river and saving of the country from barrenness, has caused the Nile to be known by the inhabitants as the most holy river, they believing that it draws its source from Paradise.

In former days it had its appointed priests, festivals and sacrifices, and if its rising were delayed by a single day they took the most beautiful maiden they could find and dressing her richly, drowned her in the waters as a victim to turn away the god's anger and merit his favors. The caliphs abolished this cruel sacrifice. Substituting one less barbarous, they threw into the river a letter in which it was commanded that the waters rise if it were the will of God.

It has been stated that the quality of the Nile water is such that it is highly extolled for drinking purposes and no matter how long kept it does not become impure.

First Steamboat in West.

The first steamboat on the western waters was the Orleans, built in 1811 at Pittsburgh by Robert Fulton, under the firm name of Fulton & Livingston, his partner being Chancellor R. Livingston of New York. It arrived at Louisville, Ky., in October, destined for New Orleans, but the river being too low for its passage over the falls, it plied between Louisville and Cincinnati until early in December, when it descended the river and entering the Mississippi encountered at New Madrid, Mo., the earthquake of December 11, which formed Reelfoot lake in Tennessee, and the lakes in Arkansas, opposite and above Memphis, which remain now. The boat was repaired and reached New Orleans December 29. It remained South, plying between New Orleans and Natchez until July, 1814, when it was wrecked and sunk.

Blessing the Alpine Ropes.

Every summer, at the beginning of the climbing season in the Swiss mountains, a solemn service is held among the guides, many of whom are godly men who know they take their lives in their hands when they ascend the Alps. So they bring their ropes with them and lay them at the foot of one of the mountains. Old and new ropes are piled in a heap, and then they are blessed by the pastor. Prayer is offered that the old ropes may still bear the strain safely and that the new ropes may prove equal to all the stress placed upon them. The guides are commended to the mercy of God that in their daily ascents they may be kept safe and that they may succor the travelers who trust in them.—F. H. Cheley in "Stories for Talks to Boys."

Egypt Raised Cotton in 200 B. C.

Cotton has been grown in Egypt since 200 B. C., but it was not until a hundred years ago that Jumel, a French engineer, suggested the introduction of the commercial varieties. In 1822 the famous American sea island cotton was the first sown. Five years later a Brazilian variety was introduced. The two strains were mingled and from them came the famous "Ashmouni" plant and the still finer "Metafi," which is one of the most productive cottons in the world.

Whisky Called "Water of Life."

The art of distilling liquors is first mentioned by Albuquassen, an Arabian physician who lived in the tenth century. Whisky, "a potable spirit distilled from cereal grains," probably originated in Ireland, and its Celtic name was uisgebeatha (water of life) afterward contracted to usquebaugh and then to whisky. It was known as usquebaugh in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries both in Ireland and Scotland.

BAPTISTS NOT FOR HARDING

The Louisville Baptist Ministers' Association in a meeting held recently, took decisive action to refute the report that had been circulated to the effect that although the majority of Baptist ministers are for the League of Nations, they propose to vote for Harding because he is a Baptist.

The conference appointed a committee composed of its President, Dr. A. Paul Bagby, its Secretary, the Reverend G. D. Billeisen and Dr. W. O. Carver, to take effective steps to silence this rumor. The committee adopted the following resolutions:

"Baptists are opposed to the union of Church and State and are consequently very averse to any confusion of official duties in religion and politics.

"The Ministers' Conference has in no way violated these convictions and principles in the present campaign. The statement is wholly untrue, wholly unfounded, and does an injury to the Baptist cause.

"The Baptist Ministers' Conference has passed no resolutions committing them for or against the League of Nations, nor a bone of contention; nor any resolution in any way touching upon their duty to vote for or against either of the leading candidates for the presidency.

"In such matters we would scorn to try to coerce any member of our Conference. Every man among us is wholly free as to his own action and as to what part he shall take as a citizen in the campaign."

DELEGATES TO THE NATIONAL

Governor Edwin P. Morrow has appointed two hundred and fifty delegates to represent Kentucky at the fortieth annual session of the National Farmers' Congress, which meets in Columbus, Ohio, November 16 to 19. Bourbon county will be represented by Henry S. Caywood, John T. Collins and Luther Rice, all members of the Bourbon County Farm Bureau.

Trail Pointer.

You can't make your face. Perhaps, if you could, you would make it different; perhaps not. But you can make your voice. You can make it gentle or harsh, you can make it pleasant or quarrelsome, you can make it common or refined, you can make it appealing or repelling. Many a job has been refused because of an unpleasant voice, many a friendship rebuffed because of tones that grate harshly on the ear. A "common" voice slams tight shut the door of many social and business opportunities.—Indianapolis Star.

STOMACH O. K.

Indigestion, Acidity, Sourness and Gases ended with "Pape's Diapepsin"

Millions of people know that it is needless to be bothered with indigestion, dyspepsia or a disordered stomach. A few tablets of Pape's Diapepsin neutralize acidity and give relief at once.

When your meals don't fit and you feel uncomfortable, when you belch gases, acids or raise sour, undigested food. When you feel lumps of indigestion pain, heartburn or headache, from acidity, just eat a tablet of Pape's Diapepsin and the stomach distress is gone.

The cost is so little. The benefits so great. You, too, will be a Diapepsin enthusiast afterwards. (adv)

Gold in Adobe Walls.

The Mexican city of Guanajuato, built near the oldest gold mines in the country, was originally constructed of adobe made of the refuse of these mines. As the early processes of extraction were very imperfect, the walls and floors of these buildings were thus full of gold. Things would have continued thus for an indefinite time, and the inhabitants would have been living yet in these valuable buildings, if the passage of a railway line nearby had not made necessary the demolition of about 100 houses.

Childish Reasoning.

Elizabeth's mother died three years ago. Recently her father also passed away, leaving ten-year-old Elizabeth the eldest of three little girls. She was placed in a girls' school, where she was telling the sister of her misfortune. "God needed them," was the sister's only consolation. To which Lizzie exclaimed: "Maybe he did, but I think we kids needed them worse."

Peculiar Fish.

Very common in the mud flats at the mouth of rivers in tropical Africa, Asia and northwest Australia are the mud-skippers, or jumping gobies, which leap about quickly, using their tails and the strong base of their fins as a sort of double-hopping instrument. Sometimes they rest on a stone with their tails in the water, as they are able to breathe by their tail fin as well as by their gills! Sometimes they sit perched high and dry on the roots of the mangrove trees, looking round and round with their strangely protruded, mobile eyes, which are close together on the top of the head.

The Movies of 1713.

On another page of this paper was printed recently an alleged newly discovered manuscript by Aristotle philosophizing on the movies. Mr. Walky was joking, of course; but there is no joke about this extract from Swift's "Journal to Stella," dated March 27, 1713: "I went afterward to see a famous moving-picture, and I never saw anything so pretty. You see a sea ten miles wide, a town on 't'other end and ships sailing in the sea and discharging their cannon," etc.—Boston Transcript.

John Smith Named New England.

The name of New England was coined by Capt. John Smith of Pocahontas fame, one of the founders of the Virginia colony. In 1614 he explored and mapped the northern coast, then called North Virginia, and renamed it New England. The charter granted the Mayflower Pilgrims adopted the name used in Smith's map several years before.

WORKING AT HOME

Production of Sound American
Citizenship the First Aim,
Says Dr. Farrand.

On the badge of every member of the Junior Red Cross are the words "I Serve." That tells the story of the school children's branch of the American Red Cross and its efforts to bring happiness to children throughout the world.

Realizing that the time never was so propitious as right now for teaching the highest ideals of citizenship, the entire present program of the Junior Red Cross has been framed under the very inclusive phrase, "Training for Citizenship Through Service" for others. Since the Junior Red Cross is the agency through which the American Red Cross reaches the schoolboys and the schoolgirls, all its activities are designed to come within the regular school program, and without creating new courses or increasing the number of studies to lend its aid in vitalizing the work of the schools.

"The thing that is needed," says Dr. Livingston Farrand, Chairman of the American Red Cross Central Committee, "is not a perpetuation of the Junior Red Cross, but the training and breeding of sound American citizenship inspired by the true, fundamental ideals of sound democracy. One of the great conceptions in making the Red Cross a contributor to better citizenship in our American democracy is the realization that after all the sole hope of any nation is with the children of the country."

The plan of organization of the Junior Red Cross makes the school—public, parochial and private—the unit, not the individual pupils. Mutual service, helpful community work such as clean-up campaigns, care of the sick, promotion of health regulations, participation in civic and patriotic movements—all these creative agencies designed to translate into life and action the regular school program are parts of the machinery which the Junior Red Cross places at the disposal of the school authorities.

Graded study courses giving practical methods of civic training, supplemented by pamphlets and helpful suggestions, are supplied to the local schools by the Junior Red Cross. An elaborate plan for promoting an interchange of correspondence between children in different sections of the United States as well as with children in foreign lands is being devised and will take a prominent place in the established classroom program.

In promoting the general cause of child welfare, Red Cross courses in home hygiene and care of the sick, first aid, and dieting may be established in all Junior Red Cross Auxiliaries.

The ideals and the objective of the Junior Red Cross are embodied in the pledge of service which the pupil takes when he signs the membership roll and pins on his coat the Junior's badge. The pledge which binds together service and citizenship reads:

"We will seek in all ways to live up to the ideals of the Junior Red Cross and devote ourselves to its service."

"We will strive never to bring discredit to this, our country, by any unworthy act."

"We will reverence and obey our country's laws and do our best to inspire a like reverence and obedience in those about us."

"We will endeavor in all these ways, as good citizens, to transmit America greater, better and more beautiful than she was transmitted to us."

At the foundation of this school program of the Junior Red Cross is a great love for America's children.

RED CROSS ACTIVE IN DISASTER RELIEF

When disaster hits a community—fire, flood, earthquake, explosion, bad wreck or tornado—the American Red Cross can be depended upon to follow right at its heels with help for the stricken people. Red Cross relief is almost immediately forthcoming—food, clothing, shelter and funds; doctors, nurses and special workers with long experience in handling similar trouble elsewhere.

During the last year, ending June 30, there was an average of four disasters a month in the United States. One hundred and fifty communities in twenty-seven states suffered. The largest and most destructive of these were the tidal wave at Corpus Christi, Texas, and tornadoes in Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

In these events of horror 850 persons were killed, 1,500 were injured, 13,000 were made homeless, about 30,000 families needed help, the property loss was nearly $100,000,000 and at most $1,000,000 in relief funds, not including emergency supplies was expended.

To the sufferers from all disasters during the year, the American Red Cross sent $120,000 worth of supplies, 110 Red Cross nurses and seven special relief trains. To meet the needs of the stricken, the organization set up ten relief stations, operated thirty food canteens and as many emergency hospitals. One hundred and twenty-five Red Cross chapters gave disaster relief service.

If disaster ever strikes this town or county, the citizens can be absolutely sure the Red Cross will be right on hand to help them in every way.

HALLOWE'EN OBSERVED BY YOUNG PEOPLE

Hallowe'en was observed in Paris by the young people of the city, who anticipated the occasion by celebrating twenty-four hours ahead of time. The principal damage done was to the mental state of those seeking slumber, who found that sleep was impossible until a very late hour.

Spooks, goblins and wearers of other faces than their own, paraded the streets until a late hour, having a good time in a good-natured way. The streets were crowded with sight-seers and merry-makers. The fact that Hallowe'en fell this year on Sunday reduced the effectiveness of the annual celebration. The annual stunts of removing gates, porch furniture, etc., were indulged in, but no malicious or serious property damage was suffered. The only mean trick we have heard of was where boys emptied the contents of two large street trash containers on the lawn of a Pleasant street home, necessitating several hours to remove the scattered paper, and other refuse.

OFFUTT GARAGE NEAR PARIS BURNED

The large garage belonging to Mrs. Jasper Offutt, on the Lexington pike, about five miles from Paris, was destroyed by fire, together with an automobile, a carriage and a buggy. The origin of the fire is unknown. The Paris fire department was called and made a hurried run to the scene with their new auto pumper. They succeeded in saving the handsome residence, which is within seventy-five feet of the burned garage. The loss is estimated at about $5,000, partly covered by insurance.

WE ARE TAKING A LOSS

THE HANCOCK RECEPTION

(Communicated)

The stately home of the Hancock's never showed to greater advantage than on last Thursday afternoon, when its mistress was "At Home" to her friends. Automobiles from all surrounding counties lined the streets nearby and a steady stream of elegantly dressed women poured in and out of the hospitable doors.

The home was decorated most artistically with white and yellow chrysanthemums, and banks of palms and fern met the eye at every turn. A quartette of instruments lent a background to the hum of conversation.

The hostess, Mrs. Arthur Boyd Hancock, and her sister, Mrs. Harris Hancock, stood in the drawing room to receive the guests. Mrs. Arthur Hancock never looked better than on this occasion, gowned in an exquisite frock of wisteria chiffon, wearing handsome diamond ornaments. Mrs. Harris Hancock wore black lace over blue, and a pearl necklace of rare design. Miss Roseberry, Mrs. James Thompson, Mrs. Thompson Tarr, Mrs. Miller Ward, Mrs. C. G. Daugherty and Mrs. James Clay Ward assisted in entertaining the guests while Mrs. Edward Prichard, Mrs. John Yerkes, Mrs. Overton Harber and Mrs. George W. Clay looked after their comfort in the dining room. A delicious two-course supper was served by Benedict, from Louisville.

More than two hundred guests enjoyed Mrs. Hancock's delightful hospitality. Among those from the nearby counties were: Mrs. W. R. Thomas, Mrs. Arthur Carey, Mrs. Lucas Combs, Mrs. W. S. Barnes, Miss Lida Clay Ingels, Miss Mary Bacon Harrison, Mrs. Nathan Elliott, Miss Mary Leonard, Miss Isabel Clay, Mrs. C. S. Brent, Mrs. Charles Kerr, Mrs. Charles Berryman, Mrs. Samuel Halley, Mrs. W. H. McCorkle, Mrs. Ernest Bradley, Mrs. Paul Justice, Mrs. Jos. Heating, Mrs. Robert Coleman, Mrs. M. Gerry, Mrs. W. H. Anderson, Mrs. Henry Bosworth, Mrs. Ed. Tipton, Miss Sallie Bronston, Miss Belle Clay, Miss Elizabeth Dangerfield, all of Lexington; Mrs. Geo. Berry, Mrs. Pierce Butler, Mrs. D. W. Lindsay, Mrs. Richard Baker, Miss Mary Scott, Frankfort; Miss Sam Woolridge, Mrs. W. C. Simms, Mrs. Claude Williams, Versailles; Mrs. Rhodes Shackelford, Mrs. C. T. Burnam, Miss Helen Bennett, Mrs. Overton Harber, Richmond; Mrs. David Pruitt, Winchester; Mrs. Murrill Shobe, Salem, N. J.; Mrs. Closson, Cincinnati.

Mrs. Hancock, who was Miss Nancy Clay before her marriage, makes an ideal hostess. She has the rare gift of making each guest feel particularly welcome and greets you with a cordiality and sincerity that is only to be found in women who are "bred in old Kentucky, where the meadow grass is blue." The weather was perfect, bright and sunny, with a touch of frost in the air, that made the big open fires in the two main rooms the center of attraction. Mrs. Hancock's reception is one that will long be remembered by all who were present at the most delightful of the many charming teas that have been given this season.

TURKEYS.

We will begin receiving turkeys for the Thanksgiving market on Wednesday, November 3, and expect to continue receiving up to and including Saturday, November 13. For the purpose of encouraging delivery during the first week (we cannot handle all of them in one week and do it right) we will give to those delivering turkeys on or before November 6 any advance in price that we may pay during the second week. This guarantees, on turkeys delivered the first week the highest price that we pay during the Thanksgiving season, and also guarantees against loss should the price decline, which is not improbable this year.

NOVEMBER COURT DAY

Like many another "Court Day," in the past, November court day in Paris was a busy time. (With the politicians and party managers.) There was a large crowd in the city, drawn principally by the prospect of something lively going in a political way, and to meet friends and neighbors for the purpose of discussing crop and farm prospects. There was very little business transacted in the stock markets, and very little stock for sale. A few mules, horses and cattle changed hands at good prices. Merchants report only a small volume of business and the usual dearth of first-of-the-month collections. The usual free show furnished by a band of itinerant religious exhorters was furnished on the public square. Political speaking at the court house by Maj. Samuel Wilson, of Lexington, and an address to the Republicans by Col. Webster P. Huntington, of Ohio, furnished entertainment for the major portion of the crowd, business being sidetracked for the time being.

WATCHMAN INJURED IN AUTO-MOBILE ACCIDENT

L. B. Miller, employed as night watchman at the Paris Distilling Co.'s plant, on the North Middletown pike, sustained serious injuries Sunday night when he was struck by an automobile and knocked down.

Mr. Miller was en route to the distillery warehouses, and when at a point near the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whaley near the North Middletown and Maysville pikes two automobiles approached from opposite directions. In trying to avoid the machine closest to him, Mr. Miller stepped directly in front of the other machine, which was going at a high rate of speed. He was knocked down and thrown to one side of the pike by the force of the impact.

Both machines sped on their way without stopping to ascertain the injury done to the fallen man.

Mr. Miller was rendered unconscious by the shock, remaining in that condition for some time. Upon regaining consciousness he dragged himself to a nearby home, where medical assistance was summoned. He was placed in a machine, and taken to the Dickerson home on Pleasant street.

A superficial examination disclosed serious injuries about the head, face and shoulders, and his right arm broken. The identity of the speeding autoists was not learned. Mr. Miller stated that his escape from instant death was a miracle.

TRIBUTE TO THE EDITOR

(Cincinnati Times-Star)
Charles E. Chapin, former City Editor of the New York Evening World, is now editor of the Sing Sing Bulletin. He killed his wife, and is passing his remaining years sabbatically on literary labors. Immured in prison, he has sent forth his first book, "Charles Chapin's Story."
And we will wager it is a story well told. For Chapin had the reputation of being a great city editor, confidentially, there is no greater business than an efficient city editor. He it is who comes into actual contact with the news and with the men who gather it and turn it through the mill for your consumption. No newspaper ever rose above the level of its city editor. He is the top sergeant of the company, and any soldier will tell you what that means. He makes editors and managing editors, just as the top sergeant makes captains and lieutenants.
It is said that Chapin discovered more good writers than any other New York city editor of the last fifteen years. Perhaps he has discovered another, up in Sing Sing. We are going to buy his book and see.

"WATCH YOUR STEP." FALL FIRES ARE DUE

"Watch your step and watch your fires," is the official warning being given out just now by Fire Chief McCracken, and the insurance men, in regard to placing fires in stoves for the first time this fall. The great danger is that many have the stoves or grates stuffed with paper and trash, with the result that fire is caused by the extreme heat or flying sparks from the first fire made. Chimneys are also stopped up in some instances, it is reported, and there is also danger of fire from this source.

"All chimneys should be investigated," said another official, "and inspected regarding the refuse that has accumulated during the summer. This will do away with some of the fires. If everyone is careful regarding their stoves and the material with which they start the first fire, there will also be less danger of a building being ignited."
During this time of the year, the "fall fire," as they are termed, are generally reported. Last year there were a series of fires, none of them very extensive. However, there were many calls made by the fire department and the loss amounted to a considerable sum.

MONEY COULDN'T BUY WHAT IT DID

Hebert Gain Twenty-Three Pounds.

"I Will Praise Tanlac Long As I Live."

"If it were possible to sell the good Tanlac has done me there is not enough money in the universe to buy it," said A. M. Hebert, well-known painter, living at Alderwood Manor, Bothill, Wash.

"I had suffered from stomach trouble for several years and got to where everything I ate disagreed with me," continued Mr. Hebert. "My kidneys, too, were in such bad shape I nearly always had a pain in the small of my back and I had the rheumatism in the shoulders so bad I had to give up several different jobs on account of it. My nerves broke down and I could hardly sleep nights and finally got to where I was hardly able to get about. To tell the truth, I doubt whether I would ever have been able to work any more."

"Then I began taking Tanlac and I never saw anything to beat the way it knocked out my troubles. I have taken five bottles now and I never felt better in my life. The stomach trouble, rheumatism, pains and nervousness are entirely gone; I eat everything set before me, sleep sound as a log and work hard every day. Yes, sir, Tanlac did the work for me and I pass the good word on to others every chance I get."

Tanlac is sold in Paris at the People's Pharmacy. (adv)

FRUITS IN AND OUT OF SEASON

Growing small fruits out of season has proved a source of gratification and pleasure to several Paris men. For several years Thos. M. Funk, of the Bourbon Steam Laundry, has grown fine luscious strawberries in the late fall months, when other people were thinking of overcoats and furnaces. These strawberries were not grown in hot houses, but out in the open, under Nature's fostering care.

Now comes A. B. Lovell, of Eighth street, who deposes as follows: In the yard of his residence on Eighth street are three pecan trees, which are loaded with a heavy crop ready to be gathered. He is also gathering red raspberries and ever-bearing strawberries.

Other Paris parties are growing experimental crops of cotton, goober peas (peanuts), fresh tomatoes, tea, and other rare varieties of food stuffs, that is, rare in this latitude and at this time of the year.

AMERICANS ABROAD IN RED CROSS WORK

United States Citizens Far Away Enthusiastic Members of the "Fourteenth" Division.

Among the most enthusiastic and energetic members of the American Red Cross are those citizens of the United States who live outside the continental boundaries of their country—sons and daughters of the Stars and Stripes residing at the far corners of the earth.

These people compose the Insular and Foreign Division of the parent organization, generally known as the "Fourteenth" Division, which has jurisdiction of all territory outside the country proper; that is, Alaska, Porto Rico, Hawaii, Virgin Islands, the Philippines, Guam, and even the island of Yap, which came under our flag as a result of the world war. For the year 1920 this division reported 30,808 paid up members.

The main object of this division is to give our citizens everywhere the opportunity to participate in the work of the organization which stands for the best national ideals. Americans in far places intensely loyal and patriotic, treasure their membership in the Red Cross as the outward expression of their citizenship. It is another tie to the homeland and to each other. There are chapters of this division in Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Canal zone, Chile, China, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, England, France, Guam, Guatemala, Haiti, Hawaii, Honduras, Japan, Manchuria, Netherlands, Nicaragua, Paraguay, Peru, Philippines, Porto Rico, Siberia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Syria, Turkey, Uruguay, Venezuela and Virgin Islands.

During the war these scattered members of the Red Cross contributed millions in money, and millions of dollars' worth of necessary articles for the men in service, and sent many doctors and nurses to France. At the same time they carried on an excellent Home Service in their respective communities for the families of those who had gone to war, and in some regions gave large sums of money and immeasurable personal service to the relief of disaster and disease victims.

The division is now establishing service clubs in foreign ports, for the benefit of sailors in the American Merchant Marine, making plans to aid Americans in trouble in foreign lands and completing arrangements for giving immediate adequate relief in case of disaster.

It is the Fourteenth Division's part in the great Peace Time program of the American Red Cross.

RED CROSS ASSISTS DISABLED VETERANS

The American Red Cross is carrying on a wide program of service for the disabled World War veterans receiving treatment in United States Public Health hospitals, and those being trained through agencies of the Federal Board for Vocational Education.

In each of the Public Health Service hospitals Red Cross workers devote their time to the general welfare of the service men from the day they enter the receiving ward until they are discharged. After the soldier's discharge the Red Cross continues its friendly service through the Home Service Section in his own community.

The Red Cross maintains a convalescent house at all of the hospitals, where patients can amuse themselves after they are well enough to be up and around. Parties and picture shows in the wards are also furnished, with occasional excursions when convalescence comes.

Great service has been rendered by the Red Cross in mental cases in identifying those who have appeared in state hospitals for the insane, and helping them secure compensation due from the Bureau of War Risk Insurance.

In the Federal Board's various district offices the Red Cross worker, acting with the Home Service Section, makes necessary loans to the men, arranges suitable living conditions, helps collect evidence and supply facts to the Board, assists in "appealing cases" and settles various personal difficulties for the men. The workers also follow up and aid all men who discontinue training.

The Red Cross agents and men "lost" to the Board, help clear up delayed cases and aid the college counselors in their friendly work with the men. Many Red Cross chapters have set up recreation facilities, and in some instances living clubs, so these victims of war may have attractive surroundings and the fun which must go with effective school work.

To the American Red Cross Institute for the Blind near Baltimore, Md., more than half of all the Americans blinded in the World War have come for training. The Institute, through the Red Cross, long ago conducted an exhaustive industrial survey to determine the vocations for which blind men could be fitted. As a result it is putting forth well trained men equipped to meet the social, civic and economic requirements of their respective communities.

BIG HUNTING SEASON IS NOW EXPECTED

Hunters report the past dove season as the biggest for several years, although this was not anticipated early in the season. The number of hunting licenses issued indicates many hunters. There were few arrests for violation of the game laws. The quail and rabbit season is now close at hand.

County Game Warden Douglas Thomas and assistants will be on the job this fall, and it will go hard with violators who may think they are above the law. In the main the hunters of Bourbon county have been law-abiding people, and true sportsmen who scorn to take advantage of the law. They are content with a modest day's sport, and are not "pot-hunters," killing for the mere fun of the thing.

SCHOOLS STAND STILL

Everybody and everything appear to move forward while the rural school stands still. Few people ride in buggies or surries these days; but the children go to pretty much the same kind of school their parents attended.

That this tendency to let the schools stand still is the same in many portions of the country can be seen from the following extract from a letter written the Bureau of Education at Washington by Governor W. L. Harding, of the great and progressive state of Iowa:

"I spent a week last September visiting one-room country schools. I was amazed at the small progress that had been made in the last 20 years in these schools. I was equally amazed at the interest manifested by the people who supported these schools, doing whatever was necessary to improve them."

AUTOS OR SCHOOLS, WHICH?

Even big, rich New York City is beginning to realize that her schools and her teachers are not getting a fair deal. Here is a statement recently published in School Life. It does not speak of rural schools; but the reader can mentally change the figures to suit his or her local conditions and the shoe will fit all right.

"Of the 2,000,000 new automobiles of the pleasure-car type, valued at approximately $2,000,000,000, that will be sold in the United States during the present calendar year, it is conservatively estimated that New York City alone will purchase 50,000, valued $50,000,000. It is estimated that there are in the city of New York 100,000 chauffeurs, whose salaries will amount to approximately $150,000,000. Garage charges (there are 240,000 cars, approximately, in the city) will be not less than $25,000,000, probably much more. Certainly a community that can afford to pay nearly a quarter of a billion dollars a year for pleasure-car service can manage to provide the teachers of its 800,000 children with a decent living. Really, the $36,000,000 paid our teachers for the year 1919 is a bagatelle by comparison."

BETTER SCHOOLS IN NORWAY

Some of the nations on the other side of the Atlantic are pushing ahead in the practical education of their children. Besides school work, children are taken on long excursions so they may become acquainted with what other people are doing in other localities. All of which proves conclusively that we in America must make our schools real schools for real 20th Century Children.

The following extract from School Life will give the reader an idea of these excursions which are being developed for school children in Norway:

"Excursions of pupils which were much in vogue before the war are again conducted and on a much larger scale than formerly. During the summer vacation many of the school buildings are opened as 'travel bureaus.' The seats and desks are moved out or placed out of the way, and the schoolhouse is equipped as a pupils' hotel. 'Folkeskolen' reports that an arrangement like the following has been found satisfactory: A certain schoolroom in Stockholm is furnished with 22 cots, mattresses, pillows, and blankets, and 6 washbasins. These arrangements accommodate a group of 20 pupils, with the 2 teachers in charge. Towels and sheets are brought by the travelers themselves.

"Every school in the cities is furnished with a school kitchen. Permission is given to the travelers to use this and the cooking utensils in preparing breakfast. The midday meal is taken at some of the inexpensive, and yet very good, hotels that are found at all principal points. All arrangements are made beforehand, so that each bureau and hotel knows when every party is to arrive.

"Boys and girls travel separately. If the trip is short, it is made on foot; if longer, the boys use bicycles. Trips to more distant parts requiring 10 days or 2 weeks are made by rail or steamboat. It is always possible to get very much reduced rates for a school excursion. Pupils from different countries visit each other in this way; the present season will bring pupils together from Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Finland, Holland and Germany."

CANADIAN WHEAT COMING

It's a long, long trail, but Canadian wheat is taking it—all the way from the wheat fields to Central Canada, by rail to Vancouver, down the Pacific coast, through the Panama Canal, and so on to European ports.

The increase in crop production made it impossible to market by the old Great Lakes, St. Lawrence route. The Westward route, doubtfully adopted as a substitute, has proved a practical solution of the difficulty. Rail costs Westward are cheaper because the gradients are lower; freight cars can be loaded twice as heavily, for the same reason. Careful inspection has proved that the grain is not injured by the variations of temperature involved, boats are plentiful, and it has been estimated that grain can actually be transported to Liverpool for three cents a bushel less than by the old Eastern route. Terminal facilities are being enlarged to meet the new demand.

It is the beginning of a new and amazing epoch in transportation and it is new proof of the wisdom and foresight of those pioneers who first visioned the Panama Canal.

REVOLVER RECOVERED.

Through an advertisement placed in THE NEWS a few days ago, Boone Baldwin, of Baldwin Bros., recovered a fine revolver which had been lost. The weapon was brought to THE NEWS office by a small boy, who said he found it on the floor of the covered bridge over Stoner, at the foot of Main street. The gun was lost from Mr. Baldwin's machine en route to Millersburg. Mr. Baldwin had given the gun up as lost, and was greatly pleased to recover it.

YOUTHFUL CRAPSHOOTERS ARE CAUGHT IN ACT.

It is not always the colored lover of craps who gets into the toils of the law. True to the colored brother it comes as natural to "roll the bones" as it does to love yellow legged chicken. But, what we started out to say, to use some of Luke McLuke's thunder, is this. Four white boys, ranging in age from ten to fourteen years, were caught in the act of indulging in a game of craps Saturday afternoon in front of a local clothing store. The boys were having a good time all to themselves when suddenly the majesty of the law, represented in the person of Patrolman George W. Judy, swooped down on them and gathered them in. The officer confiscated the dice and the few coins representing the play.

The boys were taken before County Judge George Batterton, who imposed fines and costs on the youthful bone-tossers. Their parents came to the rescue, the fines were paid and the boys taken home.

We see by the cables that harmony between France and Italy has broken out again.
